PHYSICIAN, KNOW THYSELF: OUR SELF-IMPOSED OBSTACLES TO CURE

Robin Pollock is a well-known homeopath, psychotherapist, and respected national and international speaker. With a career dedicated to advancing homeopathic practice and education, she has become a trusted voice within the professional community.

A recipient of numerous awards, Robin is also an accomplished author and editor of homeopathic books and scholarly articles. She has contributed extensively to the dissemination of classical and contemporary homeopathic thought through her writing and educational leadership.

In addition to her clinical practice, Robin is an experienced webinar moderator where she has facilitated professional learning and dialogue for WholeHealthNow and Canadians for Homeopathy. Trained in clinical, group, and Gestalt psychotherapy, Robin brings a deep understanding of the psychological dimensions of healing, enriching her integrative and patient-centered approach.
